Baby Brains

4 MONTHS

Remember that all family members can read, sing, and talk with your baby. Have a wide variety of printed materials available so baby can enjoy the sounds and rhythm of language.

Please see above links for more information!

MEET...

MEET

CARRIE TRUTNA

If you haven't met her yet, here's Miss Carrie! For all you kiddoes, this is the person you will see all summer long.

Miss Carrie has been at the library for 15 years! She is super excited to see you for summer reading program. She can't wait to explore oceans and rivers with you and she has new friends for you to meet, too!

If you need help looking for a book on dinosaurs or axolotl's or even underwear, Miss Carrie is the one who will help you find it! She really likes to read to kids so if you ask her nicely, even if it isn't story time, she'll probably read a story to you!

STAFF PICKS/NEW BOOKS

Never Touch a Shark!

by Rosie Greening

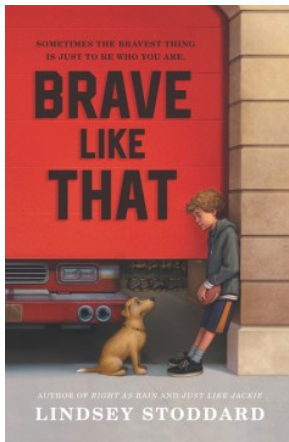

You must never touch a shark...unless it's in this book! This ocean-themed touch-and-feel board book is great for children of all ages and fits perfectly into tiny hands. Kids will love reading the silly rhymes that warn the dangers of touching the animals--and then ignoring the advice!

Oceans

by Carron Brown

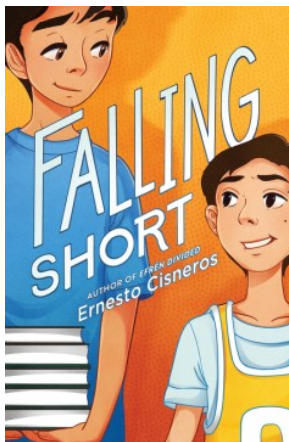

From the sunlit surface, to the deep dark depths, Shine-a-Light Oceans dives into life beneath the waves. Readers will meet amazing animals from each of Earth's five oceans, including narwhals, puffins, turtles, and sharks, as well as find out about different underwater habitats and features.

Brave like that

by Lindsey Stoddard

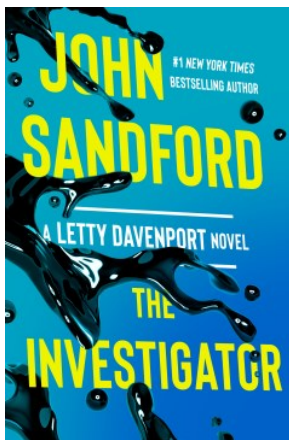

Adopted by a heroic firefighter after being abandoned as a baby, a misfit who is desperate for a break from work, sports, and immature peers bonds with an equally lonely stray while finding the courage to realize his own kind of normal.

Falling Short

by Ernesto Cisneros

Two best friends, one athletically gifted and one academically gifted, have more in common than they realize when their goals intersect, forcing them to find a way to support each other so they don't fall short.

The Investigator

by John Sandford

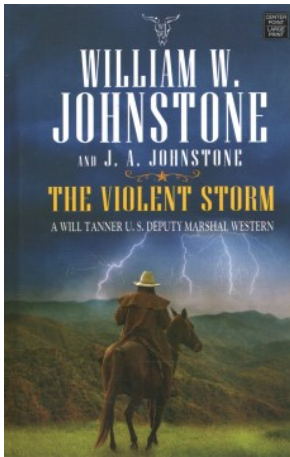

Working with Homeland Security in Texas to investigate the thefts of crude oil, Letty Davenport, the brilliant and tenacious daughter of Lucas Davenport, is pitted against a militia group as the case quickly turns deadly.

Sister Stardust: A Novel

by Jane Green

Inspired by a true story, the New York Times best-selling author reimagines the glamorous and tragic life of fashion icon and socialite Talitha Getty through the eyes of Claire, a young woman in search of adventure who is drawn into Talitha's orbit, forever changing her life.

The Violent Storm

by William W. Johnstone

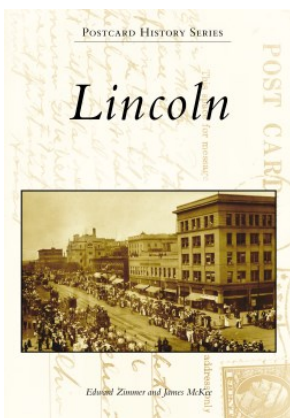

Will Tanner is no ordinary lawman. He's a force of nature. But when he's outnumbered by rustlers, outgunned by outlaws -- and stalked by a killer fresh out of jail -- he's in for the fight of his life... (Large Print)

Flea Market Garden Style

by Caroline McKenzie

Welcome to Flea Market Garden Style, where we're well-rooted in a decidedly unstuffy approach to landscapes. Around here we're firm believers that gardens look best when they are lush and layered - if (ahem) not a smidge unkempt. This book celebrates the very best of the perfectly imperfect aesthetic with 192 pages chock-full of hundreds of fresh ideas for planters, lighting, furniture, and more. Plus, you'll get to explore seven real-life dream gardens. Get ready to be inspired as you chart your own course down the garden path.

Lincoln

by Edward Zimmer

The village of Lancaster became the state of Nebraska's first capital city in 1867, renamed Lincoln. Not everyone predicted its success. One early observer noted: "There are no roads leading to it now. It has no commerce and there is scarcely a wagon load of produce raised annually within ten, perhaps twenty miles of it." These postcards from the authors' collections tell a different story in 200-plus images of a city that not only survived but thrived. Most of these images are from postcards' heyday in the first quarter of the 20th century. Many show buildings and places still recognizable a century later, while some depict less familiar scenes now lost.

LIBRARIANS ARE HILARIOUS

A chicken walks into a library and up to the desk.

"Buk", says the chicken. So the librarian gives him a book. The chicken leaves with the book and returns five minutes later. "Buk," he says. So the librarian gives him another book. This goes on about eight more times, until finally the librarian leaves the library and goes outside on break in back where there's a pond. The chicken is standing on the edge of the pond tossing the books to a frog on a lily pad. The chicken says "Buk, Buk" and the frog says "reddit, reddit".

I'll show myself out.

THANKS FOR READING!
